I personally add tea tree and lavender oil as they have strong antibacterial and anti fungal properties - and heck, they smell good.

Be careful using for personal medicinal uses - as they may have side affects (which I am not qualified to determine what is safe and what is not and I have not used it beyond the cleaning, anti-fungal, and anti-pesticide use). If you do use for personal use - make sure you dilute with a carrier oil such as almond or jojoba oil. I also use rubber gloves when cleaning with oils as they will absorb into your skin.
